Declares New York's Beauty Is Being Constantly Spoiled by Deep Holes Found in Almost Every Street.

Wu Ting-fang, Chinese Minister, arrived to-day from Washington and is staying at the Waldorf-Astoria. Minister Wu is here with several attaches of the Chinese Legation to meet Prince Cheng, a special envoy to the coronation of King Edward, who will arrive "Of course I am glad to see New York again," he said, " but when will you ever stop digging mines in your streets. I never saw such big holes as ou make in your beautiful city. When I drove to the hotel I heard roars which sounded like all the artillery in the same time. I was told it was blasting "You would have a much more beautiful city if you would only stop tear-ing it up. Why, ever since I came to the United States I have been making trips to New York, and each time I find

Courtney is accused of breaking into the residence of A. Bussing, one of the wealthiest men of Mount Vernon, who lives on Chester Hill, the residence of A. T. Henderson, and several other places. He admits that he was in the Bussing house and that when the burglar alarm went off he jumped out of the window.

When Courtney was arrested by Policeman Fiero he tried to bury a letter in a lot, but the officer found it.
